Personal Classification Sheet.

April 10, 1918.

Mr. F. L. Hutchinson, Secretary,
American Institute of Electrical Engineers,
33 West Thirty-ninth Street,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Hutchinson:-

I have finally filled out, under date of April 9th, and mailed to the Institute its Personal Classification Sheet.

I have done this in no perfunctory spirit, nor for an idle purpose. I could not be content in waiting longer for anybody or anything, and hope and expect this action on my part to count.

Will you not look over my data yourself?

Very truly yours,

Chas. L. Clarke

My dear Mr. Clarke:-

I have your letter of the 10th instant, and have also received your classification sheet, which I have noted with interest. It will be card-indexed and filed with similar data received from other members for use as opportunity may occur. As I understand the matter, you desire to be considered available in case we learn of an opportunity in which your past experience can be utilized to advantage. It is not clear to me, however, whether we are to understand that you would be willing to give your entire time, or whether you wish to serve as many other members of the Institute have done, upon special investigations, etc. ^{requiring part time only} If you will make this point clear to me, your action will be appreciated.

Very truly yours

Secretary
