Dinner to Honor Gano Dunn

Gano Dunn, retiring president of the Society of Older Graduates of Columbia University, will be honored tonight at the society's twenty-eighth annual dinner in the University Club, West Fifty-fourth Street. A graduate of the Columbia School of Mines in the class of 1891, Mr. Dunn is president of Cooper Union and 1937 Thomas A. Edison medalist of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Active membership in the society is limited to graduates of thirty or more years standing who have been prominent in alumni affairs.
