

October 29, 1907.

Mr. H. G. STOTT, President,
No. 600 West 59th Street,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Stott:

I am enclosing a communication from C. C. Maistre, the Acting Secretary of the International Electro-Technical Commission, which would doubtless have been sent to you had he known that my term as President had expired. I therefore think the matter should be referred to you.

Very truly yours,

Enclosure.
